

November 2012

Southampton's Dr Xavier invited to Istanbul to train doctors and dentists in cosmetic treatments

November saw Southampton's award-winning cosmetic medical doctor, Dr Xavier (of 'Xavier G Medi-Spa Clinic'), invited to Istanbul to train a group of 25 Turkish doctors and dentists. The special 4-day training seminar was organised in conjunction with one of Turkey's leading professional dental publishing companies.

The increasing popularity of cosmetic treatments such as dermal filler and botulinum toxin (Botox) in Turkey, like the UK, has led to an increase in medical professionals seeking training in these effective treatments.

Dentsem is a key dental-publishing company in Turkey and it arranged the special class with Dr Xavier's award-winning training company 'Innomed Training Academy'. Dr Xavier and his team of professional trainers spent 4 days teaching both theories of injectable cosmetic treatments as well as hands-on practice on a large number of willing models.

The unanimous feedback from the group was very positive and Dr Xavier remarked;

"It was a great opportunity to go to Istanbul to meet medical colleagues with a desire to train in these effective treatments. The popularity of cosmetic treatments continues to increase as does the demand for quality training. It was also a pleasure to work with Dentsem to develop and host this special course. I wish all the doctors and dentists who attended the very best for the future with their new skills".

